Meet Our Supervising Internal Medicine Team

Our practice, part of Hackensack Meridian Health Medical Group and Hackensack University Medical Center, functions as an academic practice.

Here, our group of highly-qualified residents are supervised, trained, and educated by experienced and compassionate internal medicine doctors. Together, we collaborate to treat illnesses, manage chronic diseases, and provide preventative care to enable our patients to maintain a healthy lifestyle.

As a result of our program, our patients will receive thorough exams, engage in dialogue, and receive evidence-based care by both our residents and our physicians.

Our practice is the backbone of academics and education for the Department of Internal Medicine at Hackensack University Medical Center.

We are committed to ensuring that only the highest level of medicine is practiced.
